

Paul Gray

Science Coordinator for Everglades Restoration Program

Audubon Florida

Dr. Paul Gray is a Science Coordinator for Audubon Florida's Everglades Program. Paul is based out of Lorida, FL, near the Kissimmee River, and has been working in Florida for 30+ years, with the last 26 for Audubon.

For Audubon, Paul works on water, land, and bird management issues primarily related to Lake Okeechobee, but works on state-wide issues too. He is a charter member of the Florida Grasshopper Sparrow Working Group and co-chair of the Snail Kite Coordinating Committee.

Paul's educational background includes a BS from the University of Missouri, an MS from Texas Tech University, and a Ph.D. from the University of Florida.